Important Safeguards

In addition to the careful attention devoted to quality standards in the manufacture process of your video product, safety is a major factor in the design of every instrument. However, safety is your responsibility too. This sheet lists important information that will help to assure your enjoyment and proper use of the video product and accessory equipment. Please read them carefully before operating and using your video product.

Installation

1. Read and Follow Instructions - All the safety and operating instructions should be read before the video product is operated. Follow all operating instructions.
2. Retain Instructions - The safety and operating instructions should be retained for future reference.
3. Heed Warnings - Comply with all warnings on the video product and in the operating instructions.
4. Polarization - Do not defeat the safety purpose of the polarized or grounding-type plug.

A polarized plug has two blades with one wider than the other.

A grounding type plug has two blades and a third grounding prong.

The wide blade or the third prong are provided for your safety.

If the provided plug does not fit into your outlet, consult an electrician for replacement of the obsolete outlet.

5. Power Sources - This video product should be operated only from the type of power source indicated on the marking label. If you are not sure of the type of power supply to your location, consult your video dealer or local power company. For video products intended to operate from battery power, or other sources, refer to the operating instructions.
6. Overloading - Do not overload wall outlets of extension cords as this can result in the risk of fire or electric shock. Overloaded AC outlets, extension cords, frayed power cords, damaged or cracked wire insulation, and broken plugs are dangerous. They may result in a shock or fire hazard. Periodically examine the cord, and if its appearance indicates damage or deteriorated insulation, have it replaced by your service technician.
7. Power-Cord Protection - Power supply cords should be routed so that they are not likely to be walked on or pinched by items placed upon or against them, paying particular attention to cords at plugs, convenience receptacles, and the point where they exit from the video product.

8. Ventilation - Slots and openings in the case are provided for ventilation to ensure reliable operation of the video product and to protect it from overheating. These openings must not be blocked or covered. The openings should never be blocked by placing the video equipment on a bed, sofa, rug, or other similar surface. This video product should never be placed near or over a radiator or heat register. This video product should not be placed in a built-in installation such as a bookcase or rack unless proper ventilation is provided or the video product manufacturer's instructions have been followed.

9. Attachments - Do not use attachments unless recommended by the video product manufacturer as they may cause a hazard.

10. Camera Extension Cables - Check the rating of your extension cable(s) to verify compliance with your local authority regulations prior to installation.

11. Water and Moisture - Do not use this video product near water. For example, near a bath tub, wash bowl, kitchen sink or laundry tub, in a wet basement, near a swimming pool and the like.

Caution: Maintain electrical safety. Power line operated equipment or accessories connected to this unit should bear the UL listing mark of CSA certification mark on the accessory itself and should not be modified so as to defeat the safety features. This will help avoid any potential hazard from electrical shock or fire. If in doubt, contact qualified service personnel.

12. Accessories - Do not place this video equipment on an unstable cart, stand, tripod, or table. The video equipment may fall, causing serious damage to the video product. Use this video product only with a cart, stand, tripod, bracket, or table recommended by the manufacturer or sold with the video product. Any mounting of the product should follow the manufacturer's instructions and use a mounting accessory recommended by the manufacturer.

Service

13. Servicing - Do not attempt to service this video equipment yourself as opening or removing covers may expose you to dangerous voltage or other hazards. Refer all servicing to qualified service personnel.
14. Conditions Requiring Service - Unplug this video product from the wall outlet and refer servicing to qualified service personnel under the following conditions.
 - A. When the power supply cord or plug is damaged.
 - B. If liquid has been spilled or objects have fallen into the video product.
 - C. If the video product has been exposed to rain or water.
 - D. If the video product does not operate normally by following the operating instructions. Adjust only those controls that are covered by the operating instructions. Improper adjustment of other controls may result in damage and will often require extensive work by a qualified technician to restore the video product to its normal operation.
 - E. If the video product has been dropped or the cabinet has been damaged.
 - F. When the video product exhibits a distinct change in performance. This indicates a need for service.
15. Replacement Parts - When replacement parts are required, have the service technician verify that the replacements used have the same safety characteristics as the original parts. Use of replacements specified by the video product manufacturer can prevent fire, electric shock or other hazards.
16. Safety Check - Upon completion of any service or repairs to this video product, ask the service technician to perform safety checks recommended by the manufacturer to determine that the video product is in safe operating condition.
17. Wall or Ceiling Mounting - The cameras provided with this system should be mounted to a wall or ceiling only as instructed in this guide, using the provided mounting brackets.
18. Heat - The product should be situated away from heat sources such as radiators, heat registers, stoves, or other products (including amplifiers) that produce heat.

Use

19. Cleaning - Unplug the video product from the wall outlet before cleaning. Do not use liquid cleaners or aerosol cleaners. Use a damp cloth for cleaning.
20. Product and Cart Combination - Video and cart combination should be moved with care. Quick stops, excessive force, and uneven surfaces may cause the video product and car combination to overturn.
21. Object and Liquid Entry - Never push objects for any kind into this video product through openings as they may touch dangerous voltage points or "short-out" parts that could result in a fire or electric shock. Never spill liquid of any kind on the video product.
22. Lightning - For added protection for this video product during a lightning storm, or when it is left unattended and unused for long periods of time, unplug it from the wall outlet and disconnect the antenna or cable system. This will prevent damage to the video product due to lightning and power line surges.

General Precautions

1. All warnings and instructions in this manual should be followed.
2. Remove the plug from the outlet before cleaning. Do not use liquid aerosol detergents. Use a water dampened cloth for cleaning.
3. Do not use the receiver in a humid or wet place.
4. Keep enough space around the unit for ventilation. Slots and openings in the storage cabinet should not be blocked.

WARNING

STRANGULATION HAZARD:

Infants have STRANGLED in power cords. Keep power cords more than 3 feet away from cribs, bassinets, play yards and other safe sleep environments for infants.

Connecting The Camera

- Before you install the camera, carefully plan where and how it will be positioned, and where you will route the cable that connects the camera to the power adapter.
- Before starting permanent installation, verify its performance by observing the image on a monitor when camera is positioned in the same location/position where it will be permanently installed.

Installation Warnings

- Aim the Cameras to best optimize the viewing area: Select a location for the camera that provides a clear view of the area you want to monitor, which is free from dust, and is not in line-of-sight to a strong light source or direct sunlight.
- Avoid installing the cameras where there are thick walls or obstructions between the Cameras and the Receiver*.
- Select a location for the camera that has an ambient temperature between 14°F~122°F (-10°C~50°C)
- For outdoor use, installation under a shelter is recommended.

*Avoid installing in a location which requires the wireless signal to pass through cement, concrete, and metal structures. This will reduce the range of transmission.

For details, see "Appendix C: Facts About Digital Wireless Cameras" on page 11.

Camera Setup

To install the camera:

- 1 Use the included mounting screws to mount the stand to the mounting surface:
 - Mark the position of the screw holes on the wall
 - Drill holes and insert the drywall plugs as needed
 - Firmly attach the stand to the wall using the provided screws

- 2 Twist the camera into the head of the stand (1).

Adjust the angle of the camera until the desired view is set. Tighten the thumbscrews to secure the desired camera position (2).

- 3 Connect the power cable from the camera to the Power Adapter. Plug the power adapter to an outlet or surge protector.

Wireless Receiver Setup

To connect a wireless receiver to a surveillance recorder (DVR):

- 1 Connect the BNC connector on the receiver directly into an available video input.

Make sure to first connect and power on the camera(s) before powering on the receiver; this will ensure a proper connection.

NOTE: If necessary, attach the 3ft (1m) BNC/BNC extension cable at one end to the receiver and at the other end to the surveillance recorder.

- 2 Connect the power cable from the receiver to the power adapter. Plug the power adapter into an outlet or surge protector.

NOTE: For instructions on powering multiple receivers, see “Powering Multiple Receivers Using The Power Splitter Cable (LW2110PK2 only)” on page 7.

To connect the wireless receiver to a TV or VCR:

- 1 Attach the included BNC/RCA adapter to the BNC connector on the receiver and plug the receiver directly into an available video input on the TV or VCR.

Rear panel of TV.

Connect the BNC connector to the BNC to RCA adapter (included).

BNC extension cable

Receiver

Make sure to first connect and power on the camera(s) before powering on the receiver; this will ensure a proper connection.

NOTE: If necessary, attach one end of the 3ft (1m) BNC/BNC extension cable to the receiver and at the other end attach the BNC/RCA adapter, then connect the BNC/RCA adapter to the viewing/recording device.

- 2 Connect the power cable from the receiver to the cable of the power adapter. Plug the power adapter into a local AC power outlet or surge protector.

Installing Multiple Wireless Cameras

When installing multiple digital wireless security cameras in the same environment (e.g. LW2110PK2 - 2 pack wireless cameras) maintain as much space as possible between the receivers using the included 3ft BNC extension cables, to optimize camera performance. See illustrations below for examples of recommended 2 and 4 receiver installations.

Scenario A: Two Wireless Cameras

- Plug one receiver directly into the back of the Digital Video Recorder. Connect the other receiver to the included 3ft BNC extension cable and plug into the Digital Video Recorder.

Scenario B: Four Wireless Cameras

- Plug one receiver directly into the back of the Digital Video Recorder. Connect the other receivers to the included 3ft BNC extension cables and plug them into the Digital Video Recorder.

It is not recommended to install more than 4 digital wireless security cameras in the same environment to maintain optimal video frame rate performance.

NOTE: The receiver included does not support an extension to a range extender antenna. Should you require a wireless range extension, an accessory kit including an extendable receiver and wireless antenna is available at www.lorextechnology.com. For details, see "Appendix F: Extending Wireless Range" on page 15.

Powering Multiple Receivers Using The Power Splitter Cable (LW2110PK2 only)

The power splitter cable allows you to connect two receivers to one power adapter.

To connect the power splitter cable to the receivers:

- 1 Connect the power adapter to the power splitter cable (see Figure A below).
- 2 Connect the ends of the power splitter cable to each of the receivers.
- 3 Connect the power adapter to a 120V power outlet.

On-Screen Display

Signal Indicator

Status Indicator

- 1 Signal Indicator: The signal indicator shows the strength of the signal being received from the camera. The number of bars in the signal indicator shows the strength of the signal. One or no bars indicates the signal is poor. Four bars indicate a very strong signal.
- 2 Status Indicator: The status indicator message "Connecting" appears when the receiver is trying to locate a camera.

ATTENTION: If the signal is low (e.g. 1 or 2 bars) adjust the antennas, or reposition the camera or receiver to improve signal strength.

Pairing Cameras

IMPORTANT

The camera and receiver have already been pre-paired at the factory, which means that they are exclusively communicating with each other. If for some reason the pairing is lost, follow these steps to pair up the camera and receiver.

To pair the camera to the receiver:

- 1 Make sure that the camera and receiver are both powered up.
- 2 On the receiver, press and hold the Pairing button for 5 seconds to activate pairing function.
 - The on-screen displays informs you that you have 30 seconds to press the pair button on the camera.

- 3 Press and hold the Pair button underneath the antenna on the back of the camera. You must press the Pair button on the camera within 30 seconds of pressing the Pair button on the Wireless Receiver. If pairing is successful, live video from the camera will immediately appear on the monitor.

Appendix B: About Digital Wireless Technology

The Digital Wireless signal transmission type used by the Lorex LW2110 is also known as FHSS -Frequency Hopping Spread Spectrum. This type of signal results in a private, interference-free signal.

The 2.4GHz (2.400-2.480Ghz) band is being divided into sections or paths of 2MHz per section, and each second the transmission signal hops hundreds of times in a specified sequence within this frequency range. The overall bandwidth required for frequency hopping is much wider than 2MHz however because transmission occurs only on a small section of this bandwidth at any given time, the signal being transmitted does not suffer from greatly reduced signal degradation and also avoids blocked paths other devices who act as sources of competing signals. The strength of the signal being transmitted is set to be from 13.5-16dBm, which is much higher than the analog transmission signal allowed by authorities around the globe.

When an image is captured by the camera it is instantly converted from an analog to digital signal and packaged into small packets. With each successful transmission via the 2 MHz paths discussed above, the packets of information containing images are delivered to the receiver and decoded into analog information. The information can then be displayed on devices that are connected to the wireless receiver (RX).

A device pairing process is required to synchronize the transmitter (TX, Camera) and the receiver (RX). This allows the transmitter and receiver to be on the same frequency and use the same algorithm for frequency hopping. This ensures that only the paired transmitter and receiver can maintain communication signal by hopping to the same frequency paths at the exact same time. As a result, the chance that other devices within the same frequency range are on the same frequency, at the same time and in the same order is vastly reduced. Note that the pairing process is already done at the factory for products that ship within the same packaging. Only when add-on devices are purchased is a pairing process required.

Appendix C: Facts About Digital Wireless Cameras

Wired VS Wireless Cameras

A wired camera has a video cable that transmits the video signal from the camera to a recording or viewing device.

A wireless camera does not use a video cable. Instead, it wirelessly transmits the video signal to a wireless receiver that is connected to your recording or viewing device. Although the typical digital wireless camera is priced slightly higher than a wired camera, wireless cameras can provide cost savings compared to standard wired setups. For example, wireless cameras do not require cabling to be run between the camera and the viewing / recording device, which reduces installation time and cost.

Does a wireless camera require power?

Yes. Wireless cameras require two power sources: one connected to the camera, and the other to the receiver.

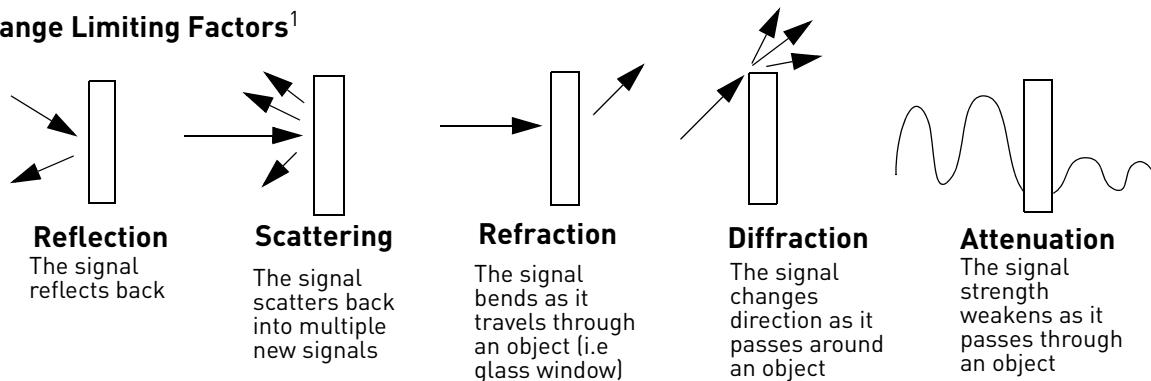

How far can a wireless camera transmit a video signal?

In an open field (with line of sight), a typical wireless camera has a range between 250 to 450 feet. In a closed environment---such as an interior of a house---the wireless camera range is between 100 to 150 feet. The signal range varies depending on the type of building materials and/or objects the wireless signal must pass through.

Cubical walls, drywall, glass, and windows generally do not degrade wireless signal strength. Brick, concrete floors and walls degrade signal strength¹. Trees that are in the line of sight of the wireless camera and receiver may impact signal strength.

The signal range also depends on whether there are competing signals using the same frequency as the camera. For example, signals from cordless phones, routers may affect signal strength.

Range Limiting Factors¹

¹Source: Xirrus (2010). "Wi-Fi Range Dynamics". Retrieved online at http://xirrus.gcsmarket.com/pdfs/Xirrus_Wi-Fi_Range.pdf

Signal Reduction Through Materials

Signal strength decreases as it passes through different types of material. Try to position your wireless camera and receiver in a location that does not pass through metal, or concrete blocks, which can significantly reduce signal strength (as shown in the table below).

Material	Signal Reduction (%)
Plaster & Wood	10 - 30%
Brick	30 - 50%
Concrete Cinder Blocks	50 - 70%
Metal & Metal Cladding	70 - 90%

NOTE: Signals that must pass through wet or moist materials (i.e. shrubs and trees) may be significantly reduced.

The stronger the signal strength, the higher the video frame rate. The lower the signal strength, the lower the video frame rate.

Are Digital Wireless Camera Signals Secure?

Yes. Lorex digital wireless products feature a wireless transmission method called FHSS –Frequency Hopping Spread Spectrum.

This type of signal is highly resistant to eavesdropping as it generates a channel hopping sequence using an algorithm generated by the receiver, which only the camera can follow through the "pairing" function. FHSS makes digital wireless signals secure, private, and interference free.

How many frames per second should I expect from a digital wireless camera?

Current Lorex digital wireless cameras offer 10 - 30 FPS (Frames Per Second) performance. Actual frame rate depends mainly on signal strength and resolution (see the chart above). Most digital wireless cameras support one or both of the following resolutions: QVGA, and VGA.

QVGA produces video at up to 30 FPS at 320x240 resolution.

VGA produces video at up to 10-12 FPS at 640x480 resolution.

How many wireless cameras can I install?

It is recommended to install a maximum of 4 (four) wireless cameras per system.

Appendix D: Troubleshooting

If you have problems with your System, there is often a quick and simple solution. Please try the following:

Problem	Solution
There is no picture from a camera	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Check power to the camera. Make sure the adapter is plugged in properly. • Move the camera closer to the receiver.
The picture is dropping	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Move the camera closer to the receiver. • Try repositioning the camera, receiver, or both to improve the reception.
The picture is or has become choppy	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The picture may become choppy when experiencing a lower frame rate (e.g. 6 frames per second vs. a higher 12 frames per second). <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Try moving the camera closer to the receiver. • Remove obstructions between the receiver and camera. • Try switching to QVGA mode. Resolution will be reduced but video frame rate will increase.
The picture appears to be unsharp	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • When viewing on a large screen TV or monitor (especially high-definition televisions), the picture might seem unsharp as the camera is limited to VGA resolution (640x480 pixels), while the TV or monitor supports a much higher resolution. • For best performance, use with TV/monitor PIP (Picture in Picture) function. Check your TV/Monitor product manual to see if this feature is available on your TV/Monitor.
The picture is white	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Common situation known as "washout" or "white wash" where a strong light source is pointed at the camera lens. The camera lens is not harmed during a white wash. • Do not point your camera towards a light source.
The picture is pixelated	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You may be in QVGA mode. Try switching to VGA mode by pressing the Resolution button on the receiver.

Appendix E: Frequently Asked Questions

Q: What is the maximum distance I can have between the camera and the receiver?

A: Typically 450 feet (137 m) with a clear line of sight in open space, or approximately 150 feet (46 m) in a house. Walls, studs, furniture will interfere with the range of wireless transmission.

Q: Why does my "wireless camera" have a power cable?

A: The term "wireless" refers to the lack of a video cable between the camera and the receiver. The camera still requires a power source.

Q: What does 'line-of-sight' mean?

A: 'Line-of-sight' means that there are no obstructions between the camera and receiver. Obstructions include walls, buildings, trees, and certain electronic devices. Materials containing moisture (i.e wet leaves) may also act as an obstruction.

Q: What is pairing?

A: Pairing is an electronic handshake between digital wireless devices. Pairing allows the devices to communicate exclusively with each other.

Q: Can digital wireless cameras be paired to more than one receiver?

A: No. Digital Wireless cameras can only be paired to one receiver. This is to prevent interception by 3rd parties, and prevents any other device from picking up the signal - this also means that you cannot pair one camera to multiple receivers.

Q: How can I extend the wireless range?

A: A range extender kit is available on www.lorexcctv.com. For details, see "Appendix F: Extending Wireless Range" on page 15.

Appendix F: Extending Wireless Range

The receiver included with the LW2110 series does not support range extender antennas. Should you require a wireless range extension, a range extender accessory kit is available.

Wireless range extension should be considered if you experience a low signal strength (1 or 2 signal bars) due to an extended distance between the receiver and camera, or because of objects preventing line of sight between the receiver and camera.

The range extender accessory kit includes a 20ft cable and a higher power indoor/outdoor antenna which allows you to reposition the antenna outdoors for direct line of sight with the camera OR simply to get around objects which are blocking the wireless signal (e.g. metal walls). Find an example below of a typical situation in which a range extender kit is used to achieve line of sight to improve signal strength.

Example 1: No line of sight

Example 2: Line of sight achieved through use of range extender

To order a range extender accessory kit, or to get more information, visit www.lorexcctv.com, and search for LW2110 Kit.
