Before use

Inserting or changing the Braun energy cell

The energy supply must be switched off (switch A at position «0»).

Press the «open» release button E and pull off the handle.

Insert a Braun energy cell into the handle as shown in the illustration (arrow on energy cell pointing upwards). Push the handle with the energy cell back into the appliance until it snaps into place.

The handle is provided with an energy level indicator F that shows when the filling level of the energy cell is 50 % and below.

Only use Braun maxi energy cells. These are available from the store where this appliance was purchased, as well as from authorised Braun Service Agents.

The energy cells can be taken out or changed at any time, even if they are only partly filled.

Switching on

To start the energy supply shift switch A up to position «1». (the protective cover H must be removed).

Wait 3 to 4 seconds.

Shift switch A further up to the «start» position until you can clearly hear a click. This starts heating up the appliance.

Let the switch slide back to position «1».

Red dots shining in the ignition control window indicate that the styler has ignited and is heating up. In the unlikely case that it does not heat up, make sure the gas is on and push the start switch again.

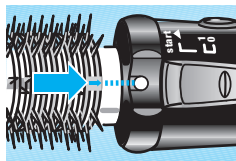

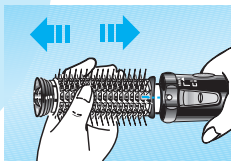

After approx. 1 to 2 minutes, the ready indicator dot D changes colour. Only then is the appliance ready for use.

Styling

Braun Cordless offers various styling functions:

The brush attachment G can be put on or off as shown.

Switching off

To switch off shift switch A back to position «0».

Cleaning

Make sure the appliance is switched off and cold. The tong and the handle can be cleaned with a soft damp cloth if necessary. Never immerse the appliance in water. The brush attachment and the protective cover can be cleaned in warm, soapy water.

Storage

After use or cleaning, always place the heat-resistant cover H on the appliance. It can be placed on the product immediately after usage. The cover will ensure that the appliance does not turn on accidentally.

Subject to change without notice.

This product conforms to the EMC Directive 2004/108/EC.

When travelling by air, please note that no more than one appliance may be carried by each crew member or passenger aboard an aircraft in checked luggage, if the protective cover is secured over the heating element. Separate gas refills are not permitted. In case of doubt, check with your airline.
