- Forgotten Worlds
- Side Arms
- Last Duel
- Legendary Wings
- Magic Sword
- Mega Twins

The following games can be played with alternating turns over the network, or they can be played 2 player with a shared PSP™ system:

- The Speed Rumbler
- Bionic Commando®

Note: Cooperative games can be joined at any time for network play. Alternating Network games can also be joined at any time, however accepting a join request will reset the current game and start a new game in alternating mode.

Accepting A Join Game Request For A Cooperative Game

When selecting a game from the Join Game list, the player who is hosting a game session will receive a message on their screen allowing them to accept the network connection. Their game will pause while this message is displayed and they will have the choice to ACCEPT, DECLINE or IGNORE your request. Use the analog stick or directional buttons to highlight your choice. Press the X button to accept your choice. Press the ○ button to move the cursor to DECLINE.

Note: When choosing IGNORE, you will refuse the network connection from the second player. Doing so bans the second player from making further join requests. This ban is lifted when the player exits the current game to the Game Select Menu or turns off the PSP™ system.

Pausing The Game / Changing Settings During Network Play

If you pause the game during network play (or access the Start Game Menu), all connected players' games are paused and darkened and a message will appear in the upper-left corner of each connected player's screen notifying the other player that you are changing settings.

Note: If the other player has paused the game during network play, you can also access your Pause Menu by pressing the START button.

Loss Of Connection / Dropping Networked Players

If a network player is dropped from a game – either by choice or due to network failure – the game in progress on all PSP™ systems will be paused and you can choose to continue playing the existing game without the disconnected player or reset to the Title Screen.

In an alternating game, choosing Continue switches the game to the two player-alternating mode, where both players' actions are controlled by the same PSP™ system.

If you choose to continue a game solo after a disconnect or when someone unjoins a multiplayer game, in some occurrences you will be able to control the movement of the disconnected player along with your own character. This will continue until the second player loses its remaining lives.

Note: Even though you can control the movement of the "ghost" character you will not be able to do any types of actions such as attack.
